Our Presenter

David Sprowl is the Family Advocacy Programs Administrator at The Arc of Indiana. He oversees the family advocacy programs around the state, helping families navigate various government programs, connect to community resources, and solve problems. A graduate of Ball State University, David works closely with state agencies to help families navigate various systems and to ensure that policies are friendly to both self-advocates and families.

Hosted by our Center for Family Leadership, this educational forum is generously supported by the Harriet P. Irsay Endowment Fund.
