Art Exhibit Greet Indy Airport Travelers

In honor of Autism Acceptance Month, the Indianapolis International Authority has partnered with INARF, Ability Indiana and disability service providers from around the state to feature the work of artists with disabilities.

This is the 4th year for this exhibit—A Celebration of Creativity & Expression—that grows bigger each year. Nine artists served by Noble have 10 pieces of artwork on display in this show, which will be up through the beginning of May.

On Friday, April 10, the IND hosted a reception to honor the participating artists. The event featured remarks, live performances & refreshments set in a backdrop of dozens of creative works. If your travels take you through the Indianapolis Airport, be sure to check this out!

Video Highlights Inclusion All Year Long

With March being Disability Awareness Month and April as Autism Acceptance Month, we love using these opportunities to show how much people with intellectual and developmental disabilities are impacting our community. However, we want to note that their contributions extend far beyond these two months. Instead, we are celebrating inclusion all year long.

To see some of the fun ways we're doing that, be sure to check out this short video.

Our Volunteers Are the Best!

We spent Volunteer Appreciation Week hosting these wonderful time-givers all around Noble. In a span of just 10 days, we welcomed two different groups from Nordstrom (the 2nd group is pictured above), United Way's annual "Go All In" volunteers from Eli Lilly and Sponsel CPA Group, and a half dozen from Corteva Agriscience.

The activities ranged from holding a Sports Jamboree for the people we serve to preparing our Giving Sum Garden and the Sensory Garden for spring. All told, more than 450 volunteers gave their time and talent to Noble in the past year. At an hourly rate equivalent to $32.62 (the value placed on Indiana volunteers in 2025 by The Nonprofit Times), we feel very fortunate to build on their contributions. A big thanks to each of you!
