May 2026 Celebrating Her 50th Birthday in Style

This month, Kate decided that she wanted to throw a no-holds-barred 50th Birthday Bash for herself. She invited 20 or so of her closest friends to West Washington Royal Pin Bowling Alley. There they enjoyed an afternoon of bowling punctuated by pepperoni pizza, cake, gifts and hugs.

Kate has a unique gift for bringing joy to others. This party was a great example of this: full of friends, laughter, food and fun.

Another way she brings joy to others is through her sly sense of humor. Specifically, she likes to play pranks. Recently, she noticed how the Roku remote control was constantly disappearing from the common area of her apartment building. Seeing an opportunity, she bought her own remote control and then spent half an hour confounding another resident who couldn't figure out why the television wouldn't stay on the channel he had chosen.

Such moments make life fun & memorable, and Kate is determined to create as many of them as possible.

Joining in the Indy 500 Fun

With a sellout crowd of over 350,000 spectators & a record-breaking finish, this year's Indy 500 was an event like no other. Given the proximity of Noble Art from the track--you can see Turn 1 from our front yard--of course we joined in the fun.

Early on the morning of the race, a half dozen Noble staff members & volunteers arrived at Noble Art ready to start their proverbial engines. From 5:15 am to noon, they parked cars in our parking lot, sold art pieces & gave away postcards featuring this year's inaugural Indy 500 artwork (see story above). Approximately 50 cars were parked at Noble Art--all of whom had reserved their spot in advance--and generated enough revenue to put a serious dent in our art supply budget!

Employee Spotlight | Shay Dunn

This month, we're proud to highlight Noble Direct Support Professional Shay Dunn for being a literal lifesaver. Recently, an individual at the day program began choking while eating. Shay quickly assessed the situation by asking if the individual was okay and able to speak. When there was no response, she immediately performed the Heimlich maneuver. After several abdominal thrusts, the individual coughed up the lodged food. Shay's quick response ensured the individual's safety.

Outside of emergencies like that, Shay consistently demonstrates a person-centered approach, understanding individual challenges while also highlighting goals, progress & strengths. She is always focused on empowering individuals to achieve their goals.
