Setting New Goals for the Young at Heart

At 83, Evelyn lives a pretty independent life with some supports through Noble. A strong advocate for her independence, she has always enjoyed doing things for herself.

Evelyn is currently using a tablet provided by Noble through a technology grant to work toward a personal goal she's had for years: learning to read. She enjoys practicing on her tablet & continues to make progress toward this important goal.

Although she's held a variety of jobs over the years, today she works two days a week at Goodwill. During her downtime, she enjoys listening to country music on the radio & creating crafts.

Indiana State Fair: Always a Hit!

It wouldn't be summer without day camps, the heat and the Indiana State Fair. A huge thanks again this year goes to both the State Fairgrounds Commission for donating 100 tickets and to Corteva Agriscience for donating 50 tickets.

From participating onstage in "The Strong Man" show to seeing the animals to pitting skills in a watermelon seed-spitting contest, the people we serve and our staff had a great time!

Artist Spotlight: Phillip Clemmons

Phil is a very laid back, independent artist. He loves to help people & will often make art to give to his loved ones & friends. Phillip really enjoys listening to live music. His favorite music artist is Michael Jackson & he will happily start dancing to his music whenever he hears it playing. He loves to play basketball with his friends & is always playfully competitive on the court. While he's primarily an acrylic painter, he will sometimes venture into other media like watercolor & cardboard sculpture.

Phil really enjoys the meditative process of painting. He gets lost in the painted worlds he creates, his focus becoming solely on the project in front of him. Each brushstroke is laid with care as he focuses on creating very short brushstrokes in the same direction. He will switch colors often, though always choosing colors that blend together in stunning ways. This process creates a beautiful & captivating foundation for his creations.
